

FISHING AND GOLF OCCUPIES HARDING'S TIME ON VACATION

President-Elect and Party to Sail for Canal Zone on November 18

POINT ISABEL, Texas.—By The Associated Press.—Outwardly as carefree as the happiest member of the little community of fishermen who are his neighbors here, President-elect Harding began Tuesday a vacation that he hopes will make up in full measure his loss of rest and recreation during the campaign.

In the forenoon he had a test of skill with the rod and reel, and for the afternoon he had a golf game at the Brownsville Country Club, twenty miles away. The same combination is expected to occupy him during most of his stay here.

The appearance of the president-elect as he began his vacation was anything but that of a man worn out by cares of a national campaign. In spite of the long hours and unaccustomed exertion in travel and public speaking, he looked robust and vigorous and told the villagers he had come here more because he liked the isolation and the outdoor life, than because he needed rest.

For his cruises along the coast, Mr. Harding uses a launch placed at his disposal by Governor Hobby of Texas. November 13 has been selected as the date of departure of the president-elect and his party from New Orleans for a voyage to Panama.

WON'T MEET OBREGON
MEXICO CITY.—It would be impossible for General Alvaro Obregon, president-elect of Mexico, to meet Senator Harding at a border city, said a statement Monday night from General Obregon's headquarters. The short time before the inauguration of the general and necessity of preparing a legislative program were given as reasons for abandoning all thought of meeting the American president-elect.

Assertion was made that General Obregon realized the benefits of such a meeting, and personally desired it.

GOPHERS GET DATA ON COMPENSATION LAW IN WISCONSIN

MADISON, Wis.—The Wisconsin Workmen's Compensation law may be used as a model by the state of Minnesota. Six members of the Minnesota legislature came to Madison Tuesday to take testimony on the workings of the Wisconsin law. Minnesota has a workmen's compensation law that is enforced by judges instead of by a commission. There is general dissatisfaction with the operation of the measure, the legislators said.

DOLLAR'S WORTH

Is the Red Cross something close and real to you, or is it a far-off, vaguely worthy enterprise that doesn't seem to touch you or yours, now that the war is over and your soldier is back in civil life? If the latter, we should like to sketch for you some of the work which the Red Cross—YOUR Red Cross—is conducting right now, right here.

Do you know that it was the La Crosse Red Cross chapter that sponsored the organization of the children's dental clinic, that bought its equipment and that pays the practitioners who care for the teeth of children who would otherwise go without such attention? That in the month and a half in which the clinic has been operating it has done work for a total of 132 clients?

Do you know that the recent dental clinic, at which hundreds of people were examined without charge by the best experts the state can boast, was financed by the Red Cross? That this service is to be continued regularly?

Do you know that the Red Cross gave the community extra nursing service during the influenza epidemic last year, and the year before, extending and helping the work of both the city's public health nurses and the county nurse?

Do you know that the Red Cross has furnished the funds to give honored burial to soldiers of the nation who died in indigent circumstances? Do you know of the relief and help given to disabled soldiers through the Red Cross, and of its services in behalf of men of the army or navy who had compensation claims against the government or who were in difficulties over their government insurance?

These are some of the things which you ought to know about the Red Cross. They are the works which tie the Red Cross in with the community, and make its support of importance to you personally. Note that they comprise services which, for the most part, we should not have had otherwise, services which could hardly be done except through such a central organization as the Red Cross, able to co-operate with other civic activities, concentrating and directing their efforts without overlapping and waste.

For this service you, as a citizen of the community, are asked to pay no more than a dollar. More than half of your dollar is expended right here in La Crosse, on the enterprises mentioned and such others as the Red Cross funds may be able to underwrite from time to time. The other half of your dollar goes to the fund with which the Red Cross meets emergency needs, and to the prosecution of the imposing program of world-wide research and relief of misery which the Red Cross has undertaken. Only a tiny proportion goes to overhead. The Red Cross pays few salaries, and those not large.

Is there any other way in which you could spend a generous dollar so effectively?

ON BEHALF OF THE COMMUNITY

To the invitation to take part in the Armistice Day celebration which Frank L. Shuman Post is sending out to the thousands of service men in the county we would add a second in behalf of the entire civilian population of the city and county. This community eagerly desires an opportunity to show to the men who offered themselves for its protection in 1917 and 1918 the high esteem in which it holds them and the proud record they made for the state and the county from which they came. We want them to hear and see for themselves that we have not forgotten, and that we shall not forget. All of us, through the civic and fraternal organizations in which we express ourselves as a community, plan to shut up shop on Thursday afternoon and turn out to demonstrate that the memory of their service at home and overseas is not dulled. We want to see the boys march again, to cheer and applaud them as they pass, and to march behind them in the triumphal procession in the same spirit as that in which we backed them to victory in the great war. We hope to make them see and feel the pride we hold in them, and to give them assurance that we are for them as they were for us when the guns were speaking. So we want not only our boys who live in the city but also our boys who live everywhere in the county to feel and share with us the happiness of Armistice Day, to live over again the emotions of thankfulness and relief with which we welcomed the dawn of November 11, 1918. We will try to make them feel the warmth of their welcome, try to make their visit as enjoyable as we can. This is their day. We hope that not a service man in the county will fail to be here to receive the tribute which is his due from the community for which he offered his life.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS

It is obvious that the election was not "a solemn referendum on the league of nations", if by that is meant the fundamental idea involved. Perhaps it was in fact "a solemn referendum" on Article X. Reaction following the strain of warfare doubtless accounted for much of the republican strength, and by their attitude the great republican leaders displayed their conviction that the country demands some international machinery for the adjustment of disputes and prevention of wars.

The announcement of the republican program will be awaited with interest. Its form is not even hinted in President-elect Harding's rather non-committal declaration touching our international relations, but some earmarks exist from which conclusions may be drawn.

Possibly Harding's recent reference to a French understanding approached a situation arrived at by Mr. Root in his European visit. It may be expected that the other powers will go the full length of reason in accommodating themselves to the necessities created by republican criticism of the present covenant, and that with their acquiescence considerable change in form will be accompanied by some change in effect. But with some thirty-two nations already members, and with a large number of pending applications, it may be expected that the world will decline to turn a complete somersault to follow the variabilities of American politics. As much may be inferred from Mr. Root's references to certain articles in the present covenant as fixtures. Europe may accept certain American reservations, and in turn adopt them. Anti-league senators may be encouraged by the tremendous republican majority to demand further restrictions. Even the name may be changed as a concession to supposed American sentiment. But there will be a substantial association of nations, capable of use and development, and quite distinct from The Hague tribunal the futility of which was demonstrated so disastrously by the war.

The new Turkish minister of the interior is Marshal Izzet. One might say that anything that Izzet goes to the interior.

All roads running into La Crosse will be affected if the strike is called.

Tonight Walter Goetzinger, La Crosse's blind pianist, will make his last appearance here. He has secured a position with one of the larger vaudeville houses of Chicago and will take up his work there at the beginning of next week.

The board of public works will present a communication to the common council at its meeting tonight asking that the old Second ward school building at Fourth and King streets be advertised for sale. Numerous complaints have been made to the city that the building is frequented by tramps at night and that it is a nuisance.

If the recommendation of the board of public works is adopted by the common council tonight street sweepers and teamsters in the employ of the city will receive an increase in wages and a reduction in the number of hours they work. A similar recommendation presented to the common council this time last year was voted down.

Normal Notes

The officers chosen to run the Women's league for the coming year are: President, Gertrude Collier; vice president, Gertrude Humphrey; secretary-treasurer, Ruth Cronk.

The students enrolled in the three year high school course held a short meeting Tuesday morning at assembly. Miss Ida Rabbitt, president, was in charge.

President Cotton gave a very interesting account of John Drinkwater's play "Lincoln," which he witnessed while he was in Chicago recently. The talk was especially appropriate as the reading of the play will be given at Normal soon by Miss Anna Neilsen, while Drinkwater, author of the piece, will appear in the Normal lecture course.

The following girls are scheduled to play in the elimination matches for the tennis tournament which is to be put on soon by the Tennis club: Stutzman-Wager vs. Reeman-Heimen, and Holzinger-Wilkinson vs. Hall-Bergh.

The student directory committee reports that the books will soon be ready to place in the hands of the students. Most of the data has been collected and the material is nearly ready for the printer.

The Men's Debating society has launched a drive for new members. They hope to initiate fifty of the men who have enrolled this year.

The Saphonian society is holding raffles this week for places on the various teams which will meet representatives of the Men's Debating society and the Forum, in the Triangular contest which is to be staged soon.

All students are urgently requested to sign up with the squad captains at once. The parade will start promptly at 7 o'clock from the High school and after marching down town, and extending a little lung power, the students will go in a body to the Majestic theater where admittance can be secured for any High school student for the sum of two cents, the war tax. This parade is to be held under the auspices of the Guards, with the assistance of the teachers. There was general assembly Tuesday. Ample opportunity was given the students to practice their school

BLAME PROHIBITION FOR FALLING-OFF IN LUMBER PRODUCTION

CHICAGO, Ill.—Prohibition and the inability to lumberjacks in Wisconsin and Michigan to obtain liquor since the beginning of the dry era were cited as the chief causes for the recent falling off of production in the lumber industry at a meeting of the Northern Hemlock association here Tuesday. Twenty lumber dealers from lumber states in the central west are in conference at the meeting to investigate housing conditions.

"Since the beginning of prohibition production in the hemlock lumber industry has fallen forty per cent," said O. T. Swan, manager of the association of Oshkosh, Wis.

"Formerly the men would receive their wages and spend them in one night in a saloon," continued the speaker. "Now they get paid nearly five times as much as they did in 1915 and work two or three weeks and then lay off for nearly the same length of time."

"Since they have no place in which to 'blow in' their wages they lay around boarding houses and the money usually lasts them two weeks. When they are broke they come back to work."

The lumbermen will prepare a brief of figures relative to the hemlock lumber industry which they will present to the Calder senatorial committee investigating conditions when that body meets in Chicago Thursday.

Mr. Swan said that prices in lumber had fallen off from $35 to $40 per cent in recent months and that the peak in low prices has been reached.

LIVESTOCK JUDGING CONTEST INTERESTS LA CROSSE TEAMS

Teams, representing the Holmen, West Salem and La Crosse county schools are competing in local livestock judging contests. The winning team will represent this district in the state judging tournament.

The La Crosse county school team will be coached by L. C. Hatch, agricultural teacher. Walter L. Houser of Mondovi has been chosen as the supervisor and manager of the contest in this district.

Seventy high schools will be represented by teams of three men each in the high school livestock judging contest which will be held throughout the state within the next few weeks. The state has been divided into 10 districts and from three to six teams will compete in each of the district contests. Only high schools offering at least two years of agriculture, or county agricultural schools are eligible to compete in the contest, and only the winning teams in each of the districts are eligible to compete in the state contest which will be held in Madison this winter.

The contests are held under the direction of a committee representing the University of Wisconsin, the Wisconsin Livestock Breeders' association, and affiliated organizations, the United States department of agriculture, the state department of education, and the state vocational board of education. It is planned that the winning teams in the state tournament will have the honor of representing Wisconsin at the 1921 dairy and international livestock shows.

Following is a list of the district contests in this locality, including the schools competing, the agricultural teachers coaching the respective teams, and the manager or supervisor of the district contest:

ST. PAUL, Minn.—Posing as purchasers of stolen bonds, United States secret agents have unearthed what they term is a clearing house for stolen bonds and through which they cleared more than $400,000 worth of bonds have passed.

Clara A. Smith and Mrs. C. H. Pearce, both of Minneapolis, are in the county jail here. When Smith was arrested at Rochester, Minn., late Monday $15,000 worth of stolen bonds were in his possession, secret service agents say. Mrs. Pearce was arrested at the same time in her Minneapolis home.

A secret agent posing as a thief, went to Rochester, with Smith, at the agent's suggestion, to make a loan, going the $15,000 in bonds as security. Smith was arrested as he was putting through the deal at a Rochester bank, which had been "let in" on the scheme.

At the Pearce home, in Minneapolis, secret agents found hidden $20,000 in bonds, which they said a check showed were stolen from the Nassau (Minn.) State bank, the Sully (Iowa) State bank, the Rockham (S. D.) Farmers' State bank, and other banks in North Dakota and Wisconsin.

Smith and Mrs. Pearce had an office in Minneapolis office building, operating extensively as a deceptive agency. A registered Liberty bond, which had been stolen, came to the agent's attention six weeks ago and started the investigation. The secret agents say Smith confessed.

REVIEWS
"Harriet and the Piper." Anita Stewart's latest Paramount picture, which will be screened at Rivoli, is a story of the same name. The story, which has a Greenway village setting, ran serially in the "Ladies' Home Journal." Supporting Miss Stewart is an all-star cast, including Ward Crane, Charles Richmond, Irving Cummings, Byron Minson, Myrtle Redman, Margaret Landis, Barbara La Marr, Decker, and Loyola O'Connor. Bertram Bracken directed the production. Those who have already seen "Harriet and the Piper," both at the coast and in New York, are unanimous in declaring it the best film vehicle in which Miss Stewart has yet appeared, not excepting "In Old Kentucky," which was one of the most successful of last season's productions. "Duck Tu," a Mermaid comedy, featuring Lloyd Hamilton is said to be fast moving with as many laughs as a "Fresh Start" that appeared here a few weeks ago. "Topics of the Day" will complete an entertaining program.

MAJESTIC
 The vital theme of marital infidelity and the causes that lead thereto, are splendidly portrayed in Cecil B. DeMille's latest Paramount Artercraft picture, "Why Change Your Wife?" which was presented for the first time in this city at the Majestic theater last night. While a companion picture in a sense to a former Cecil DeMille success, "Don't Change Your Husband," the new picture is totally different in the development of the story and characterizations. The plot centers around Robert and Beth Gordon, married for ten years, but now learning to drift apart. Beth was a charming girl. She has become a too wifely wife and bore her husband with her excessive solicitude for his comfort. It is this devotion to the company of vivacious, pleasure-loving Sally Clark. Literally-minded Beth imagines them in love. A divorce follows, and Robert marries Sally. Too late Beth discovers why she has lost her husband and, blossoming like a rose, develops into society's gayest figure. Sally, on the other hand, is transformed by marriage into a worse household drudge than Beth ever was. Robert's eyes are opened when he again sees Beth, and through a dramatic series of events they are brought happily together.

RIVIERA
 The dangerous talent would never have been used for questionable purposes by its late owner, possessor. She has not been driven to the last ditch by circumstances beyond her control. Lelia Mead had lost her first job through no fault of her own. The suspicion of a sharp and ruthless boss man had been directed against her. A mere breath, the best possibility of what she might do was sufficient in its ultimatum to blacken her character. Week after week of fruitless answers to "want-ads" followed, until the gnawing of hunger and the thought of her empty purse spurred her into using a talent of which hitherto she had never dreamed of availing herself.

Zemo is a clean, dependable and inexpensive antiseptic liquid. Try it, as we believe nothing you have ever used is as effective and satisfying.

 Get the whole story at the Riviera theater today only for, not until then can you judge the right or the wrong of Lelia Mead's case.
 Harold Lloyd in his latest comedy sensation "Haunted Spooks" will complete the program.

CASINO
 "The Garter Girl" which is one of the Casino theater today, is seen at the Riviera theater today only. It is a story that will appeal to thousands of picture fans throughout the country because of its theatrical and rural atmosphere. Miss Griffith has a role that calls for great diversity of action and characterization. From the care free headliner on a vaudeville bill to the prim little school in the village church is quite a jump and calls for versatility. Miss Griffith rises to great heights in her interpretation of the role. Her personality, her mannerisms and attractive good looks, make her the perfect portrayal of Rosalie Ray, the girl who left the stage to go to the country in search of a real man, a man unlike those who hang around the stage door. She found that all men were alike.
 Miss Griffith had several gowns created especially for her use in "The Garter Girl." They are distinctly feminine and present the star at her best. She makes an exceptionally clever vaudeville performer.
 Episode 15 of "The Vanishing Dagger" will complete an interesting program.

BLJUOU
 Beauty of settings, photograph and lightings are distinct features of "The Ladder of Lies," a new Paramount Artercraft picture, which comes to the

GRANDMOTHER KNEW
 There Was Nothing So Good for Congestion and Colds as Mustard
 But the old-fashioned mustard-plaster burned and blistered while it acted. Get the relief and help that mustard plasters gave, without the plaster and without the blister. Mustard does it. It is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. It is scientifically prepared, so that it works wonders, and yet does not blister the tenderest skin. Gently massage Musterole in with the finger-tips. See how quickly it brings relief—how speedily the pain disappears. Use Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia).

Bljuou theater today. Added to these is the unrivalled beauty of Miss Clayton, who stars in the production. The skill of William Marshall, the camera artist, was one of the most important factors of this attainment. Mr. Marshall is recognized as a leader in the field of camera work and his painstaking efforts always result in a picture that is photographically above the average. Miss Clayton is delightfully supported in this great production. The story was written by Harold Vickers and the scenario by Edith Kennedy. Tom Forman was director.

DEMENTED WOMAN IS FOUND BESIDE BROTHER'S BODY

Police Break Into Home and Find Sister in Half-Frozen Condition

MILWAUKEE, Wis. — Breaking into the home of Charles Ernst, aged 60, police found the body of Ernest's sister, the body of the little parlor, lying on the floor, half frozen and apparently demented sat his spinster sister, Matilda, aged 62, Ernest had been dead for a week.

No one visited the aged pair and for several days absence of any one about the house failed to excite suspicion. An accumulation of newspapers on the front porch together with the failure of smoke to come from the chimney caused a neighbor to call a policeman. The officer broke into the darkened house and found the body and the apparently demented woman.

The coroner's physician said that Ernest apparently died of pneumonia. His sister, it was said, had eaten nothing during the week. She was taken to a hospital.

Relatives were called and took charge of the body.

Louise Huff's Beauty Talk

That dainty and charming actress, Louise Huff, is famous for her beautiful complexion and as an author of many articles on the subject of beauty she has been persuaded to tell the readers of this paper how they may quickly acquire a soft, smooth, rosy-white complexion like hers. She says: "To get the best results the skin should be thoroughly cleansed, then apply Derville which can be obtained at the retail counter of any up-to-date drug or department store." This instantly beautifies the complexion and its continued use makes the results permanent. Over five hundred thousand girls and women are using Derville in preference to face powder and other beautifiers and they are just as enthusiastic over it as Miss Huff. Be sure to read her large article on the complexion soon to appear in this paper. HIGH SCHOOL TEAM FACES CAPITAL CITY ELEVEN SATURDAY

The Madison and La Crosse high schools are slated for a battle on Normal field next Saturday when the Normal field team will virtually eliminate one of the other from the running in the state championship race. With fresh memories of the scoreless tie played at Camp Randall last season, the La Crosse team is out to clear the slate with a decisive win over the Capital city aggregation Saturday.

Madison is considered the most formidable foe in the immediate path of the locals and will no doubt be called upon to put up the hardest fight of the season to emerge with a victory. The Capital city griders are making no predictions as to the result of the battle but can be counted on to put up a stiff fight to remain in the championship running. Coach Alcala has been sending his team through a series of hard scrimmages this week and with three days remaining before the clash with Madison, is expected to have the Red and Black eleven in the best condition of the season for the crucial battle.

Reports from Madison indicate that a large delegation of rooters will accompany the team here. Enthusiasm at the local school is running high and the turnout Saturday will no doubt surpass those of former games at Normal field this year.

MINOR LEAGUES TO BE ASKED TO JOIN LASKER MOVEMENT

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—With the opening guns fired in the scramble to win the support of the National Association of Minor Leagues, August Herrmann, owner of the Cincinnati Nationals, and a leader in the organization of the new twelve league, is to address the convention of minor leagues here today in an appeal for endorsement of the Lasker plan for baseball reorganization.

Mr. Herrmann will attempt to offset the favorable impression created among the minor league leaders yesterday by Dan Johnson, president of the American League and George W. Miller, the American league attorney, who urged the minors to appoint a committee of three to meet with a similar committee from the major leagues in a final effort to support a baseball war. President Johnson in opposing the Lasker plan told the minor leaguers that the management of baseball should remain in the hands of men who have devoted their lives to the sport, instead of being turned over to men outside the game.

It is expected the minor leagues will refuse to take sides, leaving the settlement up to the major leagues for settlement.

BY "BANGS"

Although conceded to have the strongest football aggregation in the southern section of the normal school conference, the wares of the La Crosse eleven will be put to a severe test next Saturday when the state champions will journey to Oshkosh to battle the Normalites of that city. By reason of the record made by Oshkosh this season, the aggregation representing that normal has been pointed to as the most formidable obstacle in the path of Coach Keeler's championship ambitions. Oshkosh's victory over Milwaukee gives La Crosse the tip of the balance if comparative scores were to be accepted as an indication of the respective strength of the two teams. Having defeated Ripon college outside of the list of normals that have fallen before Keeler's strong contender for the conference championship. In that the outcome of Saturday's clash will decide the winner of the southern section, La Crosse will fight to meet northern champions, while Oshkosh will go into the game with its utmost strength directed toward the same end. A similar situation is the topic of conversation of the supporters of the River Falls and Stevens Point normals in the northern section. While either of these aggregations failed to score in their clash last Saturday at River Falls, a second battle will be staged next Friday on neutral grounds at Chippewa Falls to decide the winner of the northern section. The outcome of the northern and southern clashes on Friday and Saturday will disclose the teams which will battle in the final game for the normal conference championship.

With intensified fortifications in every department of play, football teams, representing the universities of Illinois and Wisconsin, will clash at Camp Randall in the annual homecoming event at the Badger university. Wisconsin will meet a clean slate team when it takes the field against Illinois Saturday and consequently will exert every effort to bring about a possible triple tie for the Big Ten honors. Illinois will likewise fight a bitter contest to meet Ohio State for the championship on November 20. The Illinois aggregation was defeated by Wisconsin in mid-season last year. The Badgers and the Illini have always been known to fight hard battles against each other and this year promises to be no exception. Coach Richards has a good idea of the Illinois style and has the material to mold a strong defense. Both teams have reliable coal kickers and in this respect are about at a standoff. Illinois won from Chicago 2 to 0 as a result of Fletcher's boot between the poles, and Wisconsin took Minnesota into camp by the same method, when Davey substitute quarter back, booted the oval between the posts in the third period. With neither team holding a decided advantage the fact that it will be a great battle, goes without saying. While Wisconsin and Illinois are deciding a delicate point in the championship race Chicago and Michigan will clash at Ann Arbor. The Rockers have no game scheduled for Saturday but will doubtless be interested spectators at Camp Randall in order to get an idea of the Illini scrimmage tactics. Minnesota will journey to Iowa to battle the Hawkeyes.

Not all fighters bear the name of Dempsey. And the Mayor of Lansing, Iowa, is one exception. His name is Dempsey, but it isn't Jack. An account in the Lansing paper tells of Dempsey giving chase to "an old offender," who was commanded to "halt." He did so, just long enough for the Mayor to come within reaching distance of him and then he made a quick lunge at Mr. Dempsey, catching him a glancing blow on the jaw which partly felled him to the ground.

Caution When buying a Sheep Lined Coat be sure the skin is from a domestic sheep.

Foreign Skins are flint dried for shipping economy with all nature's oil extracted. The tanning greases used to make them pliable soon dry out and linings of coats made from them grow hard and brittle.

The reason domestic skins are so pliable and become more so with use is their Natural Oil.

"it's more like a Smoke!"

There you have Spur's big reason in a nutshell. It's what an American Legion man said after he had puffed a Spur for a moment or two.

He knew cigarettes. Found how comforting a good one is. Had 16 months in France. And he knew what he was talking about when he said:

"More Like a SMOKE"

That's because you can taste the good tobacco in Spurs. You get the aroma of a new and delicious blend of the finest leaf grown in Turkey, fine Burley and other home-grown tobaccos.

Unmarred by starch because the seam is crimped not pasted.

Longer and sweeter in the smoking—slower in the burning. Fresh and fragrant as you open the pack, because it's triple-wrapped.

Priced to be popular and packaged to be select.

See for yourself—"more like a SMOKE."

Are We Blinkies Downhearted?

NO! Not So Long as the Red Cross Sees a Fellow Through

Let a blind soldier speak to you—

"Close your eyes for a moment. Then imagine that, for you, the rest of your life was to be one perpetual night; no flowers, no colors, no sunshine, no friendly faces—just sounds and smells and feeling things with your fingers. That's blindness.

"But are we blinkies downhearted? NO! Not so long as the Red Cross sticks around and sees a fellow through!"

Your Red Cross does just that—"sticks around and sees a fellow through."

Not only is your Red Cross helping ALL of those men who were blinded or half blinded in the war and training them for happy, self-supporting occupations; it is helping to bring back to health more than 26,000 men who are still in hospitals as a result of the war.
